An Expensive Luxury for Brooklyn Street Car Magnates.

A FORTUNE IN DAMAGE TO CARS.

President Lewis, of the Brooklyn Heights Road, Declares That the Loss on This Item Alone Will Reach $100,000-Police Charged with Brutality.

Brooklyn, Jan. 29 .- Odd Fellows' hall, on Palmetta street, has not been opened since the police raided it Monday night The men who fell victims to policemen s clubs at that time are to lay nursing their injuries. One of the most seriously in juried is Master Workman Thomas Murray. Mr. Murray says he was engaged in writing at his table when the police entered the hall and began to club the men and order them out of the room. The master workman told the police that if he was in any way violating the law he was willing to be placed under arrest, but he protested against being clubbed. This availed nothing, however, he said, as he was dealt three heavy blows over the head and shoulders and hustled out of the door. He is unable to leave his bed

The interior of the hall presents the appearance of a desperate battleground. After being wided three times within a week. the wind sand doors are shattered and the walls are been punctured by many the said the owner will bring a suit agalast Captain Kitzer to recever damages for destruction of the property.

Last evening a new motorman attempted to run a Union avenue car backwards at the junction of the Myrtle and Gates avenue roads without changing the troller pole. The result was complete destruction of the car's electrical apparatus. A live wire was sent flying about the street. and several persons narrowly escaped coming in confact with it. The company's loss by the accident is about $ 0 t.

In an interview with an Associated Press reporter President Lewis, of the Brooklyn Heights company, expressed his views on the strike question He said.

In reference to the action taken by the ex-certive board of District Assembly No. 75, K of f., through its counsel, Lawyer William Sulz of the counsel for the Brooklyn Heights railroad have left for Albany to defend the case. They have been to some extent taken by surprise, and have had very little time to make preparations for defense. It is probable they will apply for an adjournment I don't think the grounds upon which action has been taken against the company are tenable.

In reply to a question as to whether the company will make any concessions to the demands of the strikers, he said: "We will concole nothing. We have all the men we require to operate the roads, and today have 177 ears running. We will run them up to miduicht, and on some of the night lives later than that, except in such localities as are poculiarly dangerous.

dillink it was a great mi-ruke to withdraw the First brigade before the city had resumed its normal condition. A policy footing has not yet-been established on a firm basis, and the troops should have been kept on duty here until then. President Lowis further said in regard to the damage done to the companies' property that the rolling stock alone had suffered to the extent of $100.00). The damage to the wires will also be considerable, and the lines on all the roads will require a complete overhauling. While car its of the Fulton street line was passing under the elevated railroad structure last night a man leaped out from the shadow of one of the iron pallars and jumping on the rear-tep of the car, lunged at Conductor Green, who was standing on the platform, with a knife. As he did so his foot shipped and the blade was buried in Green's body, just over the left hip. In the confusion that ensued Green's assailant made his escape.

A Treat for the Editors.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan 30 -The Pen and Pencil club has made elaborate arrangements for an entertainment on Saturday evening next, at its club house, 1026 Walnut street, in honor of the editors, reporters and correspondents of newspapers in nearby cities and towns in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware. The exercises on this "Night in Bohemia" will include olympian sports in the big yard, which will be covered on this occasion. Killed by the Bite of a Sparrow.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 30 - Two sons of Charles Moore, living eight miles from this city, captured a sparrow and took the bird home for their baby sister, Ida, to play with. On being released the sparrow flow savagely at the child, and florcely seized her lower lip. The bird had to be killed and the beak pried open with a pair of pincers. An illness in the nature of blood poisoning set in, and the little one soon succumbed

Judge Jackson Not Seriously III.

NASHVILLE, Jan. 30. Information from Thomasville, Ga., is to the effect that the condition of Judge Howell E. Jackson, of the supreme court of the United States, is no worse, and that he has decided to leave there for his home near. Nashville, tomorrow General Jackson, his brother, says there are no grounds for the alarming rumors which have been circulated concerning Judge Jackson's health.

A SELF-CONFESSED THIEF.

Cashier Stone Robbed the Olyphant Bank

SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 30.-The closing of the Bank of Olyphant, otherwise the Olyphant Trust company, and developed into a startling crime, and Cashler Myron J. Stone occupies a cell in the county prison, a self-confessed forger and embezzler. How much his business system has impaired the assets of the bank is not yet determined, but in the year and a half the institution was in existence he has approprinted to his own use of its funds an amount reaching $23,000. This he sought to offset by forged notes.

The notes bore the names of G. A. Baker, L. R. Bennett, C. W. Hale and Stone's mother, each for $5,000, and his wife's name for $3,000. All these notes were in Stone's own handwriting, and their detection was made by Mr. J. A. Shaffer, of Superintendent Krumbhaar's staff, who, while examining the books of the bank, found Stone's account accredited with the amount as "stock subscribed," and which the entry stated was paid with discounted paper. This paper Mr. Shaffer requested leave to examine, and the cashler hesitated about producing it.

Upon seeing the paper Mr. Shaffer deteeted the similarity of writing, and charged Stone with forgery. The cashier asked that the paper be handed him that he might make an explanation; but the moment he secured it he began to tear it up. Mr. Shaffer recovered the pieces and pasted them together as evidence.

On his plea of guilty bail in $5,699 was asked, but this the cashier has been unable Southern Women Don't Want to Vote. RALEIGH, Jan. 3).—There has been a disposition manifested on the part of a large number of the Populist members of the legislature to give women the right to vote on certain occasions and to make them eligible to certain offices. A bill to require that one member of the school committee in each county shall be a woman was defeated in the senate by a vote of 25 to 19. A large number of women were spectators, and when the result was announced they loudly appland-d, thus illustrating what is generally known-that the white women of North Carolina, and the south generally, are opposed to female suffrage, and are not in favor of members of their sex holding nublic office

SENDING TROOPS TO THE BORDER.

Mexico Has Nine Thousand Men Ready to March Into Guatemala, and Is Sending Reinforcements-Central American Republies Will Unite Against Mexican Invasion.

CITY OF MEXICO, Jan. 30.—The reception in this capital of a telegram from Washington saying that the United States will endeavor to act as mediator and that Minister Gray has started on his return to Mexico to co operate with United States Minister Young, of Guatemala, created merch untavorable comment in the limited circles in which it was made public. President Diaz, when asked how the proffer would be received by Mexico, very politely replied that the country in general naturally felt grateful to the United States, as a sister republic, in its desire to sustain peace, which were exactly his own wishes; but while expressing his gratitude, the president did not say the offer would be "in all such cases settlement of the matter at Issue must depend upon the con-sent of the parties directly interested," said General Diaz.

While giving no hint that Mexico will not listen to a proper extent to the voice of the Unied States in the inatter, the press was given the general impression that Mexico will continue to eccupy the present position on the boundary dispute, and hold to the claim for damages from Gua temala, which it has all along held.

President Diaz continues to receive offers of aid in case of war. It is denied em phatically that any foreigners have been offered the command of troops if trouble occurs with Guatemala.

It is star of officially that if war is de-clared either Generals Tople or Gerantes will have full command of the Mexican army. The army of Mexico on the border is at least 2.07) well equipped men, and re inforcements are being harriedly sent to the border. Yesterday afternoon the Fourth and Sixteenth infantry regiments departed for Chiapas state, and will move on to the frontier as rapidly as possible.

WITNIPEG, Man, Jan 39, + What is known as the Manitoba school case has been a long, tedious and expensive. litigle tion. It has kept alive much of racial and religious normosa; Its settlement was much to be desired. The essential facts of the control escure theset.

In 1870 Mon toba was admitted to the Canadian confederation. Its first legislature passed a school law providing for Protestent and Cath he schools, to be supported by these respective rengionists. But in 1830 the Greenway government, passed an act appropriating all school taxes to the support of a common school system. When, under this law, the city of Winnipeg sought to collect -chool taxes from Roman Catholics they resisted payment and began an action to contest, the constitutionality of the act, contending that under the Manitoba act conferring provincial jurisdiction the legislature had no right to take away the rights of separate denominational schools held by the Catholics prior to federation. The courts of Manitoba upheld the provincial government but the Catholics kept pushing the case until finally it reached the imperial privy council, the court of last resort. The decision of that body permits a reopening of the case.

Well Known Horse Owner Dead.

THE CURRENCY BILL.

Important Amendments to the Measure in Committee.

THE FIFTH SECTION STRICKEN OUT.

This Section Made Provision for the Pay ment of Import Buties in Gold - The House Passes the Sugar Repeal Measure. Several Amendments Voted Down.

Washington, Jan. 20.-President Cleveland's financial message has again started the eddies and currents of sentiment on the financial question in the senate. While this has not yet crystallized into definite action, several incidents occurred in the smate yesterday which indicates general tendencies. 'Mr. Manderson (Neb.) presented a compromise plan. The senator emphasized the need of concession and compromise in a vigorous speech, urging senators to give and take in order that some common ground for meeting the financial emergency might be secured. In replying Mr. Teller (Colo.) made the significant declaration that no such compromise legislation could be effected at this session of congress.

Among the measures passed during the day were those for the incorporation of the National Association of Florists and for the sale of interchangeable mileage tickets to commercial travelers, known as the commercial travelers' bill.

In the house a special order was invoked to bring the bill to repeal the one-tenth of a cent differential duty imposed by the new tariff law on sugars imported by bounty paying countries, and it was passed without amendment by a vote of 239 to 31.

Amendments were offered by Mr. Hepburn and Mr. Hopkins looking to retaliation in case Germany refused to admit our ment products after the repeal of the differential. One was introduced by Mr. Hitt (Ills.) to repeal the one-eigth differential on refined sugars; one by Mr. Dingley (Me.) to provide that this act should not be construed to mean that the United States surrendered the right under treaties containing favored nation clauses to effect bounties by the imposition of equivalent differential duties, and one by Mr. Van Voorbis (N. Y., to place all sugar, raw and refined, on the free list. All were lost by practically strict party votes. The debate was of an interesting character, and at times very spirited. It touched quite extensively on the treasury situation, and the remedies to be applied. Mr. Dingley (Me.) made a long statement of the receipts and expenditures, to show that the treasury was suffering from lack of revenue, and that the first duty of the government was to increase the receipts of the treasury. Mr. Reed rook a similar view of the situation, which was again controverted by Mr. Wilson (W. Va.). The attempts to amend the bill by repealing the other portions of the sugar duty were opposed by Mr. Wilson on the ground that if the bill was loaded down with amendments it would surely meet its doom in the senate.

AMENDING THE CURRENCY BILL The Section Requiring Gold Payments for Import Duties Stricken Out.

WASHINGTON Jan. 30.-The house committee on banking and currency spent yesterday in debating the new administration bill, went through it by sections, and adopted two important amendments. The first am adment adopted reduces the tax upon the circulation from 1 per cent. per annum to one-fourth of 1 per cent., payable sesai-annually. The second strikes out the fifth section of the bill, that requiring import duties to be paid in gold. When the committee adjourned two amendments were pending. One stipulides that the retirement and cancellation of the legal tenders for each month shall not be greater than the increase in amount of national bank notes, under the operation of the plan. This amendment was carried when first offered, and then there was a successful motion to reconsider and postpone action for a day. The other pending amendment requires one half of the reserve funds of banks to he held in gold coin or gold certificates, the other half in silver com or silver certificates. Ten per cent, of the reserve is to be held in this stipulated form on July I, 18.5, 20 per cint, at the end of three months, the change being made at the rate of to percent, a quarter until completed. Republican members say that the plan will be in committee two or three days. longer, but all agree that it will be reported to the house in time, although in a retally changed from the original plan, ance the Republicans are disposed to cooperate with the administration Denos erats. As a whole the proceedings accordrather were unusually free from paraisanship.

it is action of the house upon tha it ended bill seems to depend upon the It publicans, who hold the balance of power. How far the mumble ents wild postary the epiperation remains to be seen. but it is concal dithat the chances of the measure are much better in the house than in the senate. Its opponents are lacate depending upon the free silver senators to talk it to death, as they may benisle to do in a body which has no rule by which it can fix a day for a vote.

-REVIEW-REVIEWS T WAS in April, 1891, that the first number of the American Review of Reviews was printed. The new idea of giving the best that was in the other magazines in addition to its own brilliant, original articles, took America by storm, as it had taken England—though the magazine itself was not at all a reprint of the English edition. It deals most largely with American affairs, and is edited with perfect independence, in its own office.

The Review of Reviews is a monthly, timely in illustration and text, and instantly alive to the newest movements of the day, to a degree never before dreamed of Thousands of readers who offer their commendations. among them the greatest names in the world, say that the Review of Reviews gives them exactly what they should know about politics, literature, economics and social progress. The most influential men and women of all creeds and all parties have agreed that no family can afford to lose its educational value, while for professional and business men, it is simply indispensable The departments are conducted by careful specialists, instead of mere scissors-wielders, and scores of immediately interesting portraits and pictures are in each number.

All this explains why the Review of Reviews has come to a probably unprecedented success in the first three years of its existence. For 1895 it will be more invaluable than ever.

THE REGULAR DEPARTMENTS

Besides the special articles and character sketches of thrilling interest and timeliness, the Review of Reviews has these regular departments:

The Progress of the World.—An illustra-ted editorial review of the month's events which thinking, alert men and women should understand in their proper signin-cance and proportions. cance and proportions.

Leading Articles of the Month.—This department, and the succeeding one. The Periodicals Reviewed, embody the idea on which the magazine was founded and named. All that is best in the other tangarines, American and foreign, is here brightly summarized, reviewed and quoted from.

Gurrent History In Carlcature chronicles the month's history through the picture esque means of the successful carlcons that are appearing throughout the world. Other departments review carefully new books, give lists and indexes of all articles in the world's tangazines, and furnish a terse daily record of current events.

IT IS AGAIN HEARD IN MANY STATE

Side Lights on the Careers and Personal Characteristics of New Speakers In Twelve States-They Are Mostly Lawyers, and Ten Are Republicans. All things considered, the various state legislatures have done very well in the choice of men to wield the speaker's gavel this year.

Last winter it was said that Hon. George von Leinengen Meyer, speaker of the lower house of the Massachusetts legislature, outranked all others in the matter of social standing. This year is undoubtedly floo. Hamilton speaker of the assembly of New York, to whom this distinction in due. But while it is partially correct to speak of Fessenden of Conn. Walton of Pennsylvania Cross of New Jersey. Fish of New York.

A GROUP OF EASTERN SPEAKERS. Mr. Fish as one born to social position it should be borne in mind that he comes honestly also by whatever political proclivities he possesses, for he is the son of the statesman of the same name who was so prominent in state and national affairs from 1840 to 1877, serving successively as representative in congress, governor of New York, United States senator and secretary of state. The present Hamilton Fish has been prominent among New York Republicans for years. He is a man of middle age and has more than once been counted as the leader of the anti-Platt forces, though he is this year understood to be in full accord with the ex-senator. Connecticut's choice for speaker, Hou.

Samuel Fessenden, known to his invimates as Sam, an accomplished politician, is big in person and a right good fellow. He is a native of Maine and was born in 1847. He was preparing for Harvard at the Lewiston academy when the war broke out, but, like so many other youths of that period, he gave up college for a course in the stern school of war, entering the northern army at 17. By the time hostilities were suspended he had risen to the rank of captain and was serving on the stuff of General A. P. Howe. He took part in the battles of the Wilderness, Spottsylvania, Cold Harbor and Petersburg. When he returned north, he entered the Harvard law school, from which he was duly graduated, was admitted to the Connectient bar in 1869 and has since lived in Stamford. In 1874, when he was only 26, he was elected to the state legislature and has been a member of that body more than half the time since. He has also been state's attorney of his own county and a prominent member of both the state and national Republican committees.

Hon. Henry F. Walton, speaker of Pennsylvania's lower house, was born in Strondsburg, Pa., in 1858, but is to all intents and purposes a Philadelphian, since he was taken to that city, when a mere child, by his parents and has resided there ever since. His education was obtained in the public schools, but he was given the advantage of private tutors as well. When he was old enough he began the study of law in the office of Wayne MacVeagh and George Tucker Bispham. In 1884 he was made an assistant to the city solicitor and held the place till 1890, when he was elected to the legislature. In 1892 he made a very creditable run for the speakership and was appointed chairman of the judiciary committee by his successful competitor. Hon. Joseph Cross, elected to the speakership in New Jersey, is a resident of Elizabeth, a man of middle age and a lifelong Republican. He is a lawyer by profession and has served for some years upon the bench. Hon. William D. Gordon, speaker of the Michigan house, is approaching mid dle age. He is of almost clerical appearance, his face being clean shaven and his collar high. He is one of the most popular men of the state, as is shown by the fact that he was chosen speaker by the unanimous vote of his party coltician and of excellent resial standing. Hon. John Meyer, che. a to wield the gavel in the lower house of the lilinois legislature, is a cative of Rolland, where he was born about 42 years ago." When he was 12, his parents removed to the United States and made Chicago their home. He was first seni to the legislature in 1884 and has been re-elected four times. He was prominent in the movement to secure the holding of the World's fair at Chicago and be lieves in the Australian ballot and civil servico reform. Hon. S. R. Van Sant, speaker of the Minnesota house, is a veteran of the civil war, commander of the state G. A. R. and a man of prominence.

The speaker of the Kansas assembly, Hon. Charles H. Lobdell, is a product of the state. He is a young man for so inportant a place, as he was born in 1861, his native place being Osawatomie, made famous by John Brown. He comes of ardeut free state stock, and his father was an officer in the northern army during the civil war. The speaker is at present a resident of Dighton, Lane county, where he has been a practicing lawyer since 1887. In 1888 be barely missed nomination on the Republican state ticket for attorney general. In 1891 he was sent to the legislature for the first time and was a member of the famous Douglass house, being chairman of the judiciary committee.

Hon, B. F. Russell of Missouri is a native of Oxford county, Me., where he was born Oct. 26, 1844. He was a member of the Tenth regiment of Maine infantry during the early part of the civil war and later served in the Third Massachusetts cavalry. He entered the service at 16 a private and retired a first lieutenant. After he left the army be settled in Missouri, and for three years was a schoolteacher. There he was admitted to the bar of Texas county, but soon after established a Republican newspaper at Salem, Dent county. In

Hon. John A. Tipton, the new speaker in the lower house in Tennessee, is one of the few Democrats to wield a speaker's gavel this year. His family is of great prominence in west Tennessee, and this is apparent from the fact that his place of residence is the town of Tipton, Tipton county. He is 38, received his education at the University of Tennessee and read law in the office of Humphrey R. Bate of Tipton county. Mr. Tipton's first legislative experience was gained in 1891, when he was elected "floater" for Haywood and Tipton and served with distinction as chairman of the house committee on corporations. The next year he was chosen ""floater" for five counties, was defeated in his candidacy for the speakership, but was made chairman of the committee on elections and one of the prosecutors in the Dubose impeachment case. Last fall he was elected a representative proper from Tipton county.

Hom. S. S. Sreith, elected speaker in Texas, is a Democrat, of course, and a very popular man, and Hon. William von Leininger Meyer, the re-elected speaker of the Massachusetts house, is a Republican.

Hon. C. L. Richards, speaker of the Nebraska house, is a native of Woodstock, Ills., a graduate of the University of Illinois and of the Union College of Law in Chicago. His election to the speakership was by unanimous vote of the Republicans in the house.

Hon. William S. Edwards, speaker of the lower house in West Virginia, is the first Republican chosen to that position in that state for many years. To each and every one of these gentlemen the reader will no doubt join me in extending the heartiest congratula-CHARLES APPLEBEE.

WEDNESDAY, JAN. 30, 1895.

There seems good authority for the report that the Pope has suspended Bishop McQuaid, of Rochester, for gix months, for the criticisms which he recently made from his pulpit on Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul.

Republican greed for office is most unblushingly shown at Altany, where several bills have been introduced abolishing offices now held by Democrats and creating the same offices under new names and giving the Governor the power to fill them. Among the offices which it is proposed to thus juggle with is the Board of Claims, of which Hop. Geo. M. Beebe, of Monticello, is one of the Commissioners. A bill was introduced, yesterday, abolishing the Board of Claims and creating a Board of Auditors with precisely the same powers and duties. Thus are Democrats to be got out of office and Republicans in office and the work of "reform" carried on.

The discussion of financial measures before the Senate Finance Committee, yesterday, and the opinions freely expressed by individual Senators to newspaper correspondents. make it very certain that there is no hope of financial legislation on the lines proposed by the President in his message. The silver men, nearly half of the Senate, will oppose the popular loan bill because it provides for the issue of gold bonds. They argue that the authorization of such a loan would put the country on a distinctively gold basis and render the fight for the free coinage of silver worse than hopeless. Other Sens. tore, principally from the South, are opposed to the measure because it favors national banks and omits any provision for State banks.

While Congress refuses to rise to the necessities of the occasion and allows partisan or sectional considerations to stand between it and the discharge of duty the situation grows more critical daily, and the country drifts nearer and nearer to a silver basis. The gold reserve was drawn down, yesterday, to $48,000,000, the lowest point ever reached, and there are indications that to-day's demands on the Treasury for the yellow metal will be heavier than those of yesterday. A significant feature of the situation, which indicatce a belief that gold payments carnot be sustained much longer, was the action of the Bank of Com. merce, yesterlay, in asking for the abrogation of the Clearing House rule which has been in force since 1878, which forbids banks from receiving "gold accounts," that is receiving deposits with the understanding that they will be returned

The Treasury situation is so grave that the administration cannot wait long for Congressional action, and it is understood in Washington that unless it is absolutely certain that Congress will quickly pass a pract. ed relief measure, the Secretary of the Tressury will issue $100,000,000 of thirty year four per cent, bonds.

NOT WANTED IN MIDDLETOWN.

Twice Notified of the Arrest of a "Murderer" Named Stevens- Now In Custody in Bergen, N. J -Supposed to Have shot a Man at Quarryville Several Years Ago

Several months ago Capt. Grier received a letter from a detective agency in Kansas City, stating that the chief of the bureau had located a man named H. E Stavens, who was wanted in this city for murder, and which also stated that the chief was willing to share io any reward which might have been offered for the 'murderer's" apprehension.

Capt. Grier replied saying that he knew no such man, nor was the city of Middletown in search of a murderer.

Last night a dispatch was received at the Main street tower from Bergen, N. J., addressed to Cant. Grier, stating that the police had in custody a man named Stevens who was wanted in Middletown for murder, and that they would hold the man until tc-day, awaiting the arrival of an Capt. Grier was awakened, and, going to the tower, asked for a description of the man and also the name of his victim.

All the information that was returned was that the man had shot a man named "Pat," four years ago.

After considerable thinking and consultation among the force, it was finally decided that the man must be Henry E. Stevens, who shot Patrick Quirk at Quarryville, N. J., four years ago and who has been missing ever since.

Quirk has entirely recovered and it I thought that Stevens, having learned of this fact, has been giving himself up with the idea of getting a free ride to his former home and the family he deserted.

Capt. Grier instructed the Bergen police to wire Deckertown in regard to their man.

Miss Carrie Dail-y, cousin of the bride, was the bridesmaid, and Mr. Addison Baker, the best man. The bridal party entered the room, as Mendelssohn's wedding march was being played by Miss Jessie Dailey, also a cousin of the bride. The bride's dress was of light blue surah silk, trimmed with mouseline de sole. She carried a boquet of pearl roses. The bridesmaid's diess was of black silk, with light blue crepe du chene trimmings. She also carried pearl roses.

After the ceremony a fine wedding supper was served. The remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent in dancing, singing and various Mr. and Mrs. Cole left town on Erie train 3 for Post Jervis, where they will make their home. They were escorted to the depot by many of their friends, who were liberally proviiled with rice and old shoes.

The many valuable and useful presents received give evidence of Mrs. Cole's popularity with her friends.

Among the guests present were Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Fuller, of New York, Miss Jennie Carter, Mr. C. J. Barthe, and Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Rodman, of Weehawken, and Mrs. William Knapp, of Paterson.

Rogers - Watkins From Our Goshen Correspondent

Miss Eva C Watkins, of Hampton burgh, and Mr. Wm. H. Rogers, of Campbell Hall, were married, yester. day, at 2 p. m., at the residence of the bride's parents, by the Rev. S. C. Hepburn, Mr. Charles M. L. Rogers, brother of the groom, acted as best man, and Miss Anna Egbertson, as bridesmaid.

IN JUSTICE POWELSON'S COURT. The Orange County Roofing Company

sues George Lea A suit is being tried before Justice Powelson and a jury, this afternoon, in which the Orange County Roofing Company is plaintiff, and George Lea, proprietor of the Madison House, is defendant. The action is brought to recover $26 for repairs to the roof on the Madison House Winter Garden. Mr. Lea refused to pay the bill for the reason that the roof leaked.

The representative of the company who is prosecuting the case, says his company does not profess to make a perfectly water tight roof.

Oscar B. Welling.

The venerable Oscar B. Welling, of Newburgh, especially well known among Methodists of this conference district, died at his home in Newburgh, very suddenly at early hour, yesterday morning. He had no disease, but was eighty-six years old, and his death was merely the result of the wearing out of the tissues.

Last Sunday he attended all the services at Trinity Church. Monday he was out walking on the streets and in the evening went to the post office. He retired feeling as well as usual and slept until 1 a. m., when he complained of feeling badly and died about an hour later.

Mr. Welling was born at Warwick in 1809, and came of Revolutionary stock, his father being Richard Welling and his mother and a daughter of Col. Garrett Pust.

He was married on Jan. 2nd, 1833 to Mary Coleman, of New York city, where he was employed for a time at making fur and silk hats. He carried on the hatting business in Warwick for a number of years, where he was one of the founders of the Methodist Church. In 1846 he, removed to Newburgh, where he resided until bis death.

NO WEDDING THIS YEAR.

Fleids & Hanson's Visit Recalls a Wedding on the Casino Stage,

When the Fields & Hanson show was here, a year ago, one of the features of their visit was the marriage on the stage, by Justice Wiggins, of two members of the company, Mon s. Death of a Former Resident of Goshen -A Pleasant Social Event-Concern ing the Advantages of Hypnotism. From a Special Correspondent

-Mr. William Heory Wisner, a brother of Mr. George Wisner and Mrs. A. S. Murray and Mrs. George C. Miller, of this place, died at his home in New York on Sunday, aged eighty-nine years. The funeral service was held at St. Ann's Church, New York, yesterday afternoon, and the body was brought to Goshen, today, for interment in the family plot in the South Street Cemetery.

-The Misses Youngs will entertain the Ladias' Whist Club at their home, near this village, Friday af-

-The theory, which has been recently advanced, that hypnotism may prove to be a useful influence in controlling and reforming criminals by compelling their minds to dwell only upon elevating subjects, might, if further developed, prove to be a great boon to humanity at large in the ordinary ills of life, so that not only the great criminals but for you when the thermometer stands at 100 in the shade, or if it is cold enough for you when it is below zero, the man who smokes vile tobacco in a public place, the woman who wears a big hat to the theatre. the individual who writes the mother-in-law jokes for the papers, -if, in short all this class of lesser criminals might be brought under so mild an influence as hypnotism to a realizing sense of the error of their ways, then indeed would its dispenser become a public tenefactor. Another good subject for hypnotism would be the grip. That is something there is no use reasoning with. Argument is entirely thrown away upon it. There is a perversity and general contrariness about it that makes its difficult for the average person to deal with it successfully, but perhaps if upon its first entrance into a town a hypnotist were to meet it and gently persuide it that what it really wanted was to go elsewhere, it might be of some avail. In the mean time any one possessing this Syringes, useful power might be exercising it upon such people in Goshen as have been recently loving their neighbor's chickens as their own.

A CASCIST.

The circumstances that led to Einest Marsden's withdrawal from London have never been properly explained. His disappearance excited some comment, for, although Marsden was by profession a subordinate, it had been his humore to occupy positions of direction in his spare time as relaxation from his more scrious toil. He was a well known political organizer and speaker as well as an occasional contributor upon economic questions to the monthly reviews. By day he was employed at an office in Cornbill. It was there that I made his acquaintance. Our duties brought us a good deal together, and a considerable intimacy sprang up between us. Marsden's relations were all dead, and he was once good enough to say that I was the only friend he possessed in the whole world.

Things were in this condition when I called one night at my employer's private house on a business matter that had been overlocked. I was shown into the drawing room. From an adjoining apartment I could hear at intervals the voices of two men in violent altercation. After a time Mr. Henderson appeared in the drawing room and asked me to accompany him into the other room. Ernest Marsden, the only occupant, received me with a grateful smile.

"I have asked you to take part in this conversation," said my employer, "because I believe you to be a friend of Mr. Marsden's and likely to advise him helpfully at a very critical moment in his career. You were away this afternoon from the office and are therefore ignorant of what has occurred. I have been robbed, and your friend is the only possible culprit. At half past 12 today an amount of £60 was paid to me personally in gold and notes. Before going out I locked it up in the safe in my private room, a safe to which you and Mr. Marsden have the only other keys. Mr. Marsden, whom I left at work in my room, went out about ten minutes later. I am assured by the clerks in the outer office that no one clae entered the room during my absence. I returned in half an hour. The safe was locked, but when I orened it I found that the gold (£40) had disappeared. I have told Mr. Marsden that if he will make a clean breast of everything and restore the money he may retire from my employment quietly and without scandal.

This statement upset me a good deal. I hoped, of course, that my friend could clear himself of the accusation. My own position in the matter was none too pleasant. Although I had had leave of absence for the day. I had been obliged to come back for my parse, which, by a strange oversight, I had lett in the pocket of invofice jucket. Unfortunately I had returned to the office about 12:30 o'clock Finding the door of Mr. Henderson's sanetum unlocked—the door, I mean, opening directly into the passage-I had slipped in and out without apparently those in the outer office having noticed my return. Marsden, however, had met me upon the stairs. To make things more ugly, I had that very day come into the possession of a sum of money under circumstances that could not have been made public. To my great relief, Marsden made no referenco to our meeting, although aware, no doubt, of the effect it would have in diverting suspicion from himself.

The scene that followed was a very painful one. Marsden insisted upon his innocence, and bitter speeches passed on both sides. I fancied at one time during a hull in the storm that I caught the sound of some one weeping in the next room. The conference broke up, having come to no conclusion. Mr. Henderson, whom contradiction always lashed into a fury, followed Marsden into the hall, threatening fain with exposure and imprisonment. Sudd by the drawing room door buist op in, and a tall, proud looking girl swept into the hall. Twelve months before he had made Miss Hendersen an offer ef marriage under the impression that the girl was madly devoted to him. Whether he loved her he was not at that time sure. Within a week of his rejection-he had been refusca-he knew for certain that he did not. After that he had met Lucy Henderson frequently and had found the mixture of translliness and pity with which she treated him exactly to his fancy. He knew that the girl thought she had darkened his existence forever, and he had encouraged ker in this notion. He felt that he was acting the part of a glorified Major Dobbin and playing it uncommonly well. On one oc-casion he had sung "The Devout Lover" in her presence with so much feeling as to have affected even himself. That he was doing a great evil by this posing he had never reflected. He had not even dreamed that Miss Henderson's feelings toward him were undergoing any change. When she had proclaimed her love for him that night, he had been for a second dizzy at the chasm that had opened before him. "And now you know," he concluded, "why I confessed to the robbery."

"But what the devil has all this to do with it?" I replied angrily.
"What would you have done in my

"I-I"-progress was by no means rapid-"I sappose you couldn't have told her straight out that you no longer love her?' "In-ult her at the moment she was standing up for me so magnificently!" "Well, then, have married her."

"Quite out of the question. Impossi-"As it is," he said, "the connection has been severed, and her maidenly pride has not been wounded. As for me, I can go to another town and start afresh. Henderson has accepted the £40 I have sent him, and you, he and his daughter are all who will know anything of this affair.

I took up my hat to leave. "You won't let this interfere with our friendship," said Marsdon, holding out his hand. "Ernest Marsden," I replied, "you are either the greatest spint in creation or the meanest hound. I will write to you when I ascertain which."

Since then Marsden has written to me once or twice, but I have never replied to him. I cannot make up my mind about his behavior. That he was wrong to have followed Miss Henderson when he knew that he did not love her is beyond question. This being so, it is clear to me sometimes that he ought to have married her, and his subsequent conduct appears mean beyond credence. To escape an unpleasant duty he dishonored his own name. At other times it is equally obvious to me that he ought not to have married her-a return of her affection was not to be expected-and he chose a quixotically beroic method of sparing her self pride. As I have said, I am as far from a decision as ever, and all this while Marsden, my old chum, is suffering acutely from my neglect. There is one question that demands an answer. How was it that, in spite of his confession. I at no time behaved in my friend's guilt? I had st den the money myself. -Lon-

Code of Elephantine Manners. The following increent may prove instructive to some of your numerous readers, illustrating the power of memory in the matter of instruction in the code of elephantine manners. While visiting the zoo some time ago I took my children to see the clephant and to give them a ride. After the ride I wanted to give the elephant a ban, and to make him say "Please" said "Salaam kuro" -i. e., make a salaam. The animal looked at me hard for some time, with the bun in my hand. At last memory came to his help, and up went his trunk. and he made a most correct "salaam." The keeper seemed very much surprised and asked me what it meant. I told him it was a point of good manners for an elephant to raise his trunk up to his forchead if any one was going to feed him, and that frequently elephants will ask in this polite manner for something when they see any one pass by who is likely to feed them. The keeper assured me he had never seen the elephant do this before, and if I remember rightly he had been in charge of the annual since it arrived from India, and that it was one of those which took part in the grand procession to Agra when his royal highness the Prince of Wales visited India, and where I doubtless saw it. For 17 years this animal had never heard these words. - London

Curiosities of Courage.

Times.

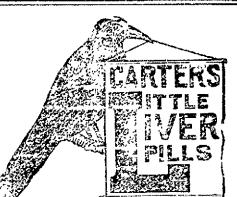

There are curious subdivisions both of moral and physical courage. Marshal Saxe, the victor of Phillipsburg and Fontency, had an absard four of assassination, and in his fortified palace of Chambord kept two constables for the purpose of scrutinizing every unknown visitor. The Duke of Alva got nervous at the mere sight of a dog, and during his residence at Ghent ordered his patrols to shoot every unmuzzled specimen of the obnexious quadruped. There are men whose actions defy the wrath of public opinion, but who turn pale with thought of seeing their names in the local newspapers, and others who advance fearlessly to the brink of a precipice, but slindder at the sight of a spider. — Lippincott's.

Failed to Live Up to It. One of the managers of a home fer destitute colored children tells a funny story about the institution. She went out there to see how things were getting along and found a young-ter as black as the inside of a coal mine tied to a bedpost, with his hands behind him "What is that boy fied up there for?"

she demanded of the altendant. "For lying, ma'am He is the worseist, lyingest nigger 1 ever seen."

"What's his name?" "George Washington, ma'am," was the paralyzing reply.—Chicago Repord.

Wm. E. Carter, pliff, and respt., vs. Better-Fine Sleighing-Rents Too High-The Water Works

Correspondence ARGUS and MERCURY. -The burning of the Brown & Olyphant silk mill in this place, Sunday morning last, was a bad thing all around, for the proprietors, the operatives and the whole town. The and applt mill employed about forty hands, who are thrown out of employment in midwinter. The Board of Village Trustees held a meeting, Monday, and passed resolutions of sympathy and pledged the charity of the town A. Shafer, W. T. Lodge, T. D. Millsincases of need. Mr. Eber L. Brown paugh and George Keeler, hotel notified his numerous tenants affected by the disaster, that their rents stopped when work stopped, thus showing that he possesses a big lin, will also be tried for alleged vicbeart. Mr Olyphant was in New lation of the excise law. York, Tuesday, on business connected with the insurance which, if promptly adjusted will insure the rebuilding of the mill.

-A concert, principally by Westcown and Deckertown talent will be given in the Methodist Church, Friday evening of this week. Let there be a good turn out.

-Mrs. J. O. Austin, who has been confined to her bed for the last two weeks, with remittent fever, is, we are glad to say, somewhat improved, speent recovery.

-Tra al-lering on the country TLAGE TAB Deter than now and farmers are improving it by getting Their is acuses filled and in getting intile reess his supply of wood.

-Etus holders in this place are doing a very bad thing for the future deve opmest and growth of the village typutting up the price of rents 12 c. y figures. A little less greed and more public apirit is what is demanded Lere, just now

-Our water works were put to a seversitest, Sunday morning, in fighting the fire at the silk mill and proved to be very effective. Had it not been for this, the whole north side of Mair street would have been in ashes now. We think after this experience there will be no delay on the part of the viliage authorities in accepting the company's offer.

A DARKY IN HARD LUCK

Falls on an Icy Walk and Five Gallons of Lemonade Go to Waste.

W. R. Rowley, Jacob Gunther's assistant, spent the greater part of yesterday afternoon in making five gallons of choice lemonade for the Middletown Club reception. About 9 o'clock he gave it to a colored attendant to take to the club rooms. On the way from Mr. Gunther's hotel sac hopes are now entertained of her to the rooms the man slipped upon fell down. The earthen crock broke and the lemonade splashed all over the full dresseuit in which the colored man was attired, making of him a sorry looking, sticky object. "Billy" had to bustle to make a new batch of the beverage.

THE SUSQUEHANNA SCORES A POINT

The Injunction in the Lackawamna's suit for Damages Vacated,

At Buffalo, yesterday, the Supreme Court vacated the temporary injunction obtained by the Lackawanna against the Su-quehanna and Wesern, restraining it from transporting coal over any other road than the Lackawanna. When the Susquehanna was extended from Two Bridges to Stroudsburg it made a contract with the Luckawanna to haul soal from its mines near Wilkesbarre and dealver it on the Susquehanna tracks at Gravel Place, but when the Wilkesbarre and Eastern Road, which is really an extension of the Susquehanna, was completed the Surquehanna repudiated its contract with the Lackawanna and began to ship its coal over the Wilkesbarre and Listern, The Lackawanna then sued the Susquehanna for over $1,000,000 damages for breach of contract and tied it up with the preliminary injunction, which has just Alled and an abundance of ice is left | Leen vacated. It is expected that the action will be tried in April.

All the News from All Parts of the County-Many Matters of Interest Condensed from our Sullivan Exchanges and Contributed by Wide-Awake Correspondents.

-Liberty's truant officer has rounded up so many boys and pirls that it is thought it will be necessary to employ another teacher in the vilag 's public school.

-As a result of revival meetings in the Methodist Church at Hurleyville about fifty young people have been converted.

-A survey of the new turnpike to connect Livingston Manor and Youngsville has been completed. The distance is about six miles.

- John Scott, a well known restdent of the town of Bethel, while in New York visiting relatives, was taken sick and died, Sunday, Jan. 20. His remains were brought to Bethel for interment.

-A party of boys at the South Fallsburgh station snow balled Emmett Hoffman, a German farm band, as he was crossing the tracks from and to the post office, Saturday. To escape his tormentors he started down the switch parallel with the main track and when he stepped on the main track it was directly in front of the south bound day express, the approach of which he had falled to notice. He was knocked down, thrown on the pilot and finally rolled on the station platform, with no other injury than a slight scalp wound. The depth of the snow between the ratis is believed to have prevented him from being drawn under the engine and crushed.
